

Unilabs Slovakia Recognised Among Best Employers In Healthcare

Bratislava, 15 February 2024: Unilabs, a leading international provider of diagnostic services, is delighted to announce that it has ranked among the top five most desirable employers in Slovakia within the hospitals and healthcare category. Entering for the first time, Unilabs secured the position in the 2023 Najzamestnávateľ (Best Employer) survey, which achieved unprecedented participation with over 131,000 respondents.

“Together our employees make a difference to millions of lives every year, and we are thrilled that our scientific excellence, work ethics, and culture have been acknowledged by the survey respondents,” said Unilabs Slovakia Country Manager Stanislav Čársky. “We pride ourselves on creating a culture of purpose, ambition, and professional development within our organisation, working together to deliver exceptional care for patients.”

Survey factors such as company reputation, collective spirit, and educational opportunities outweighed considerations of salary among respondents.

Chief Human Resources Officer Shalinee Basak said “Unilabs offers a variety of career opportunities for talented people globally in laboratory, pathology, imaging and other diagnostic segments as well as in all core business functions,” Basak added. “This recognition is a testament to our unique culture, and the fact that Unilabs is simply a great place to work.”

The Best Employer survey is organised by Alma Career (formerly Profesia), the leading job matchmaker in Europe. Respondents were mostly aged between 35-49 years and predominantly residing in the Bratislava region. Nearly half of the respondents hold graduate degrees.

This year's evaluation introduced a new methodology, which, in addition to internal and external votes, also considered data from Profesia.sk and the opinion of the expert jury.
